A Handy Way to Send Money.

There is one detail in connection with the German post office that forces itself on the admiration of the foreigners. you desire to send money, you hand in the sum at the post office, with a postcard costing five cents, which you ad-dress to your correspondent with dedress to your correspondent with de tails of the sum sent, and receive a rereceipt in exchange. But you need write no letter, send no postal order or receipt, nor trouble your correspondent to go to the post office; the postman delivers to your correspondent at his house or office your postcard, and in return for half of it hands him at once in each the sum of money sent. eash the sum of money sent.

A Map in Needlework Mr. Samuel Owens, of Harriman. Tenn., has a rare curiosity in his possession—an heirloom that he could not be induced to part with. It is a white silk quilt on which a map of North Carolina was worked with needle and thread by Mr. Owens' grandmother when she was a pupil at school at Raleigh academy, and but fourteen years old. The map is perfect, having counties, towns, rivers, sounds, etc., displayed. This wonderful production was made in 1819, so that it is seventy-three years old. The little miss who Mr. Samuel Owens, of Harriman three years old. The little miss who wrought so deftly with her needle afterwards became Mrs. Harriet B. Harden. The quilt will be taken to the world's fair. World's fair English Song Birds for Oreg a.

The climate of Oregon and Washing-ton is so much like that of England in its mildness and moisture that the plan of importing song birds of the latter country bids fair to be a success. In a consignment of birds received the other day were skylarks, nightingales, thrushes, finches and the English robin. the spring, when they will be released in the Willamette and other sheltered valleys near the coast. A story went the rounds recently that the song of a nightingale had been heard in Oregon, and many persons who read it were incredulous, believing that the nightin-gale was never seen or heard out of Eu-The only explanation possible was that this nightingale was a new comer that was being acclimated.

Hayti at the Pair.

Hayti, next in point of time to the United States in declaring its independence of European rule, will make a notable exhibit at the world's fair. It has never participated in any inter-national exhibition and is ambitious to make its showing at Chicago a very creditable one. Agricultural, forestr minerals and a historical display wi constitute the main features of its exhibit. C. A. Preston, the Haytian com missioner, visited Chicago recently to secure space and information and ar-range for creeting a twenty thousand-dollar partition.

Has characterized Hood's Sarasparilla ever since it was placed before the public. Wherever introduced, its sales have grown from year to year, until now it is the most popular and most successful medicine offered. Any druggist will confirm this statement. The secret of this success lies in the fact that Hood's Sarasparilla is a medicine of merit. It does sectually accomplish all that is claimed for it, and when given a fair trial, is reasonably certain to be of benefit.

Positive Statements.

Positive Statements. "Since Hood's Farasparilla has been in my hands for sale I have but frequent and un-reserved testimonials in its favor. Aithough carrying this preparation for less than one year, my sales have been greater than of any similar preparation, and the testimonials in its favor are at once positive and person-ally noticeable."
